Foreword

The Senior Class of Newberry College presents with pleasure the 1945 NEWBERRIAN.

Within these pages we have tried to capture some of the joys and sorrows, thrills and tribulations of college days. If this book enables you to relive one treasured memory of the time spent here, we will feel our aim accomplished.

MEN'S DORMITORY

Unfurling banners lead the march of millions—millions who move with faces toward victory. Each of us is with them, pressing ever forward to victory in war, victory in peace, and even victory in life. Each new victory, however small, puts us one step ahead on the path to the final goal.

Ultimate and lasting victory in any undertaking rests with the individuals. We can not win our victories alone, yet no one else can win them for us. We ourselves must have desire, courage, faith, and perseverance—prerequisites to winning for keeps.

Whatever part we must play, whatever position we must man, whatever road of life we may take, may God guide us—on to victory.

The President

TO OUR STUDENTS:

In appreciation of the cordial spirit of fellowship and friendliness which has marked our campus associations this year, I extend to each of you my hearty good wishes.

Sincerely yours,

JAS. C. KINARD,

PRESIDENT.

The DEANS

HATTIE BELLE LESTER

MISS HATTIE BELLE LESTER is Dean of Women and House Mother of Carnegie Hall. In her, dormitory girls always find a sympathetic listener and friend. She gives an informal, home-like atmosphere to the dormitory and is hostess to guests visiting the campus.

S. J. DERRICK

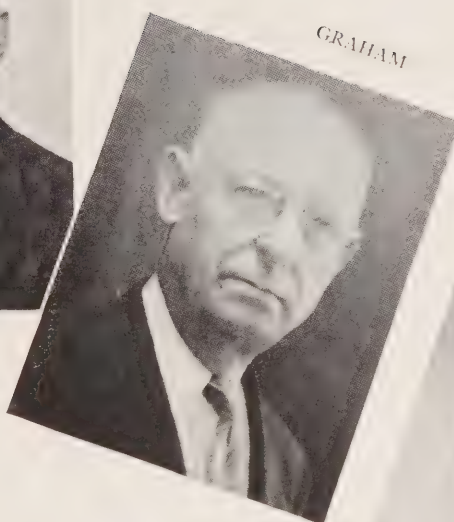

DR. S. J. DERRICK is Dean of the Faculty. During the absence of the president he discharges the official business of the college. To the students, he is the personification of the typical college professor—kind, good-humored, always interested in his “boys and girls.”

The Commanding Officer

SUBJECT: Message from the Commanding Officer for the NEWBERRIAN.

To: All Hands.

This book will serve as a memory in years to come of the early days of your training for service in the Navy. You are to be congratulated on the seriousness and the fine spirit with which you have gone about in carrying out your orders. Next semester you will all be going to advanced training units where you will receive more intensive training for your future assignments. In your behalf and as the Commanding Officer, I wish to express appreciation to the Board of Trustees, the Administration, and the Faculty for their sincere and earnest efforts in providing you with the educational background necessary to assist you in the completion of your ambitions in securing a Navy commission. Newberry College is proud to have had you on their campus, and mutually for you and the college memories of the past two years of the Navy V-12 program should linger as a pleasant experience.

The time has passed so very, very swiftly;
 The time, at last, has come for our departing.
 With misty eyes we gaze back o'er our mem'ries,
 And realize that we have lived a lifetime
 Of sweet young happiness that's past forever.

In leaving, we would say that there is woven,
 So tenderly within the colored fabric
 Of each our lives, a singing golden pattern—
 Symbolic of our days here. Underclassmen,
Hold tight onto each moment that you have here.

We leave Newberry—but yet we leave remembering—
 For you are we, and we are you, for always.

IMPRESSIONS OF A JUNIOR

One more year to go . . . turning the "rats" over to the sophs . . . deciding our majors and learning that we will have to take that extra course . . . sitting just behind the Seniors in chapel . . . worrying about the Junior-Senior . . . canvassing the stores for contributions to the Junior Carnival . . . preparations for that big night . . . farewells as some of our ranks leave for midshipman school and points N, E, S, and W . . . wondering how we ever lived without the "Shack" . . . getting used to empty mailboxes . . . and finally saying goodbye through tears to the graduates and taking our places as Seniors.

DUG FROM A SOPH'S DIARY

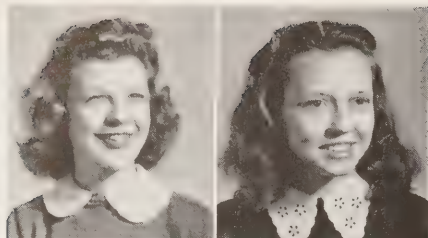

Dear Diary:

I do believe I'm actually gaining confidence in myself since I've become a Sophomore. A very momentous thing happened to me today. I actually worked up nerve enough to smile at that cute "you know who" that I told you about.

'Course, there are lots of things I don't know yet. For example, I can't decide whether I should major in campusology or navalistics. Both are quite interesting.

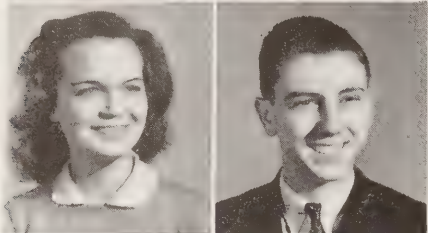

Ho-hum—now to bed again—or to "hit the sack" as we often say. Maybe I'll dream of the day when I'll be a step higher up the ladder.

Who is it that steps on Newberry's campus for the first time with fear and trembling?

The Freshman.

Who is the person most diligently studying Math, etc., etc.?

The Freshman.

Who is it that hastens to obey any commands (or else!)?

The Freshman.

What person gets homesick, homesicker, homesickest?

• The Freshman.

Who is it that writes home a jumbled mixture of "salty" slang and new English and Spanish words?

The Freshman.

Who is it that wishes ardently not to be a Freshman?

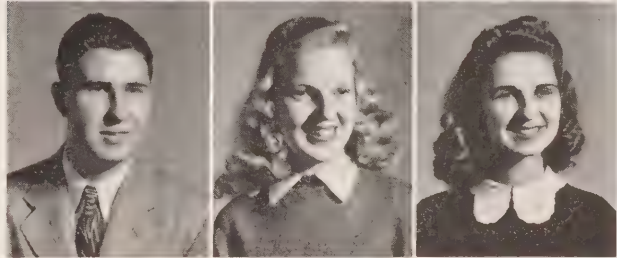

You're right—The Freshman.

Dear Reader:

To you we present this résumé of our lives in the business department of Newberry College.

Our world of typing, shorthand, law, bookkeeping—just all sorts of commerce work—is Carnegie Hall. There we gather every day to learn the business world. Our lives are spiced with last-minute studying, trainees who pass by on their way to mechanical drawing, and occasional trips to Holland Hall.

Very truly yours,
BUSINESS STUDENTS.

THE INDIANS

The 1945 Football Season at Newberry College was not a success judging from the standpoint of games won or lost. If the critical reader looks at the schedule closely, he will soon know that the season was a poor one in respect to wins—for there were none. But if he will stop to consider just what effort and courage was expended to accept these defeats, the situation will be made quite clear and different.

Coach Bill Laval, long-standing football and baseball mentor in the South, began with a perfectly “green” squad composed mostly of men of good high school calibre and whipped these recruits into shape enough to put up a surprisingly good fight! There is really no use in “padding” the poor season with a lot of flowery talk about the great showings or otherwise, for there were very few, but there is quite good reason for congratulating the team, their coaches, and all concerned for a representative showing under the prevailing circumstances. These men deserve all of our praise for long, hard hours of work on the practice field after the day’s labors had been completed, and for a never-dying sense of spirit even in the face of utter defeat.

The “alibi” clinic could take this circumstance and make it sound wonderful, showing all of the excuses for this and reasons for that. But that is not a good policy to follow. We know that our team was defeated at every engagement but we cannot fail to realize their sorrow in losing time and time again. Reserves were not plentiful. There were a limited number of candidates ready for warfare at all times and when these were expended there was but one fate—to make the best of it all.

The men of the 1945 football club saw no glory, no lavish write-ups or honors being heaped upon them; instead they tasted the bitter cup of defeat. We who watched them train, work out, and practice know that the spirit was there but no means of developing it; we know that they tried and that is all that is really necessary. We of the Sports Department of the 1945 NEWBERRIAN salute “our boys” carrying the scarlet and grey for their great effort in such a cause.

BASKETBALL

Shortly after the Christmas leave, forty civilian and V-12 aspirants for a spot on the starting five hit the hardwood in preparation for the coming 1945 basketball season. Coach Bill Laval sat back easily as he watched his cagemen eager to make the grade. After the initial "Cuts" the squad was brought down to 15 players who were to do battle for Newberry College.

Not boasting of any great names or outstanding performers, the young braves undertook a heavy season with high hopes of bringing home as many scalps as possible. They had undergone two short weeks of practice and now had to meet more seasoned clubs dotted with professional athletes.

As in most cases, the season began rather slowly and proved a bit disheartening to the fans here at home. The greatest headlines Newberry had seen for a long time came when the team defeated the highly touted Citadel Bulldogs, only to find that their efforts had been in vain and that the match was called "no game" because of a mistake in scoring. This event saw suitable notice in almost every paper of rate throughout the world. Old alumni, overseas, sent back articles clipped from "Yank" and "Stars And Stripes" while we here at home read about it in the Chicago Tribune, New York Times, and Cincinnati Times-Star.

The set-up on this game was quite fantastic and the results were even more so. It was the only game of its kind on collegiate basketball records for some time.

The schedule rolled on its way as we watched the Indians do their best to stem Carolina, Columbia Army Air Base and Paris Island Marines with little avail.

It is worthy of note that C. A. "Jocko" Norton averaged eighteen points a game to be the top scorer for the Scarlet and Grey while Marvin "Inky" English, Norton's running mate, was next in line for scoring honors. Both were in the upper brackets in the State's Basketball Honor List.

The season was not a success from the won-lost standpoint but showed that Newberry is a spirited organization and will not bow out of the picture in defeat!

PHYSICAL

The question of physical fitness was emphasized more strongly this semester than at any previous time. With new changes in schedules arranged, a much keener interest was noted by the staff members.

Organization was the keynote of the program's success. Each day had its individual activities and was rarely overdone; variety added a spark that sent the A/S scurrying to class instead of sauntering indifferently.

Every phase of physical development and hardening was emphasized; boxing, wrestling, basketball, baseball, football, and soccer, to mention only a few. Tumbling, with its stress on body and mental coordination, was a highlight. Trainee "Buck" Jennings with the aid of A. K. Byars, Sp "A" 1/c, gave a public demonstration which brought a nice round of applause for a job well done. The emphasis of this tumbling exhibition was that a very few of the teams' members had tumbled before entering the V-12 Unit here at Newberry and that to know how to fall, roll, etc., was invaluable in modern warfare.

TRAINING

The results of this rounded program were voted favorably in the Physical Achievement scores which fully indicated the success of the training program.

During the hardening-up process, at times, there was routine which was not favorable but each and every trainee knew that he was getting "in shape" for the rigors to come. The odd-million laps around the football and baseball fields, not to overlook the surrounding countryside, were never a pleasure but were responsible for the training's achievement.

Under A. J. Wallace, Sp "A" 1/c, A. K. Byars, Sp "A" 1/c, and Coach Bill Laval, the unit was under constant surveillance while on the athletic fields. Much of the credit goes to these men for their full cooperation with the trainees in obtaining their goal.

Because the center of Newberry's system is the student and because a college is a democracy where the function of government is the business of all, an important step toward cooperative government at Newberry is the existence of the Student Council elected by the student body.

The officers, whose duties are to work for the best interest of all students, are President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. The President must be a rising senior boy, the Vice-President a rising senior girl. The Secretary and the Treasurer may be rising juniors or seniors, boys or girls. The selection is made by secret ballot.

The faculty acts as an arbiter in all matters pertaining to the students of the college.

DAY STUDENTS' CLUB

HARRIS McCONNELL President
CURTIS GATLIN Vice-President
BETTYE KEISLER Secretary
MARY HELEN CARPENTER . . . Treasurer

This group was organized in 1940 for the purpose of creating a more friendly atmosphere among its members and the dormitory students. Membership is open to all day students.

Since the war began, the major portion of the civilian student body has been composed of day students. These students participate in many campus activities.

RICE, GATLIN, CARPENTER

WOMEN'S COUNCIL

The Women's Council is composed of a group of young ladies, elected by the girls of Carnegie Hall and approved by the faculty. The duties of this group are to enforce college rules and to provide for the safety and happiness of all the girls. During this term, the council has particularly stressed the necessity for more studying in the dormitory with the goal of decreasing the number of deficiencies.

Although the council has been smaller in number this year, the council members have carried on conscientious work. The group is composed of three seniors, one of whom is chairman, a junior, a sophomore, and a freshman.

COUNTS, OELLERICH, SAXTON, STEWART, KNEECE, CUMALANDER.

MEN'S COUNCIL

The Men's Council is composed of one senior, one junior, one sophomore, one freshman, and one day student. The President of the Student Body, a senior living in the men's dormitory, is chairman of the Men's Council.

The Council supervises the conduct of students living in the dormitory, imposes disciplinary measures, and formulates or repeals rules. All action taken by the Council, however, is subject to the approval of the faculty.

The Day Student representative is present only at meetings involving day students.

We have endeavored to make this book worthy of the tradition established by the preceding volumes. War-time conditions altered our plans. Film was scarce, choice of covers limited, and time short. However, by pooling our resources—and our film—we managed to meet the deadline and publish our book.

Much credit goes to the Bryn-Alan Company and

The R. L. Bryan Company for answering our numerous S. O. S.'s with their timely suggestions. We wish to express our appreciation to Nickols' Studio for all prints of the Midwinter Review and platoons.

May you, the readers, enjoy this volume as much as we who made it!

The Indian staff has attempted, during these two semesters, to carry on a combination of "Redskin" spirit and Navy "salt". In its usual four pages that went to press every other week, there has been recorded the story of a happy school year on the campus. The hard work of the staff members has carried our college newspaper successfully through another "era" of printer's ink and jumbled type. Long live the Indian!

SOCIAL COUNCIL

Chairman WALTER LAKE
Vice-Chairman BECKY STEWART
Secretary SARAH DERRICK
Treasurer RACHEL PARK

The Social Council is at this time the most active organization on the campus. The purpose of this council is to provide entertainment and aid the other campus groups in their activities. It is through the Social Council that the entire semester's social calendar is planned and carried out.

The Social Council's membership consists of representatives from each class and organization on the campus. This group also has a representative from each platoon of the Navy V-12 Unit. The chairman of the Social Council is the President of the Student Body.

This year the Social Council showed unusual ambition and initiative in planning the social calendar.

They started the semester with an informal dance on Thanksgiving Eve. The Council then introduced a new idea of entertainment on the campus in the form of an old-fashioned Barn Dance. The first Barn Dance was such a success that it was followed by another a month later.

In cooperation with the Navy Unit, the Social Council sponsored a midwinter Formal this year. The festivities started with a review of the Navy Unit followed by an informal tea in the "Zack Shack." The week-end was climaxed by the midwinter Ball. Because of the success of this dance, the Social Council hopes to make the midwinter Formal an annual event.

The Y is the one campus organization whose membership includes every student. It endeavors to promote growth in Christian faith and link Christian character with all campus activities. It seeks to spread a cooperative spirit among the students and to serve as a tie between members of the various denominations.

The Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. work together, holding joint meetings once a month. The groups also meet separately once a month to discuss any pertinent questions involving Christian solutions.

METHODIST STUDENT FELLOWSHIP

President CURTIS GATLIN
Vice-President RALPH LONG
Secretary-Treasurer BETTY JEAN GATLIN

This is the fifth year that the Methodist students on the campus have been organized. The students, in keeping with the other college groups in the state, have adopted the name Methodist Student Fellowship for the organization.

Many of the naval trainees have taken an active part in the work of the group and through their interest and cooperation have been a definite asset to the fellowship.

This Methodist student organization on the campus serves as a tie between the student and his church.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

President KIRK SMITH
Enlistment Vice-Presidents JIMMY HATCH, BECKY STEWART
Devotional Vice-President BILL AMOS
Secretary-Treasurer IRIS HOBBS

The Baptist Student Union has attempted during this year to carry on the same ideals and principles for which it was organized; to promote a closer bond between the campus and the church; to help the individual student meet problems of college life; and to develop Christ-like personalities.

With trainees and civilians working together, the bi-monthly meetings, consisting of discussions, chalk talks, Bible quizzes, and devotionals, have been an inspiration to all Baptist students.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

President	RACHEL PARK
Vice-President	G. B. CORLEY
Secretary	BETTY RICE
Treasurer	VIRGINIA EHLERS

The Lutheran Student Association is composed of all Lutherans on the campus. Its purpose is to keep students in close contact with their church and its work, to provide fellowship, and to encourage Christian friendships.

The association is a member of the Southeastern Region of the Lutheran Student Association of America, and cooperates with similar groups all over the country to hold regional, national, and international conferences which work toward strengthening the bonds of world Christianity.

Through its contributions to Lutheran Student Action, the LSA helps to carry on Lutheran World Action, India-China Scholarship, and the WSCF.

THE NEWBERRY PLAYERS

President BETTY RICE

Vice-President RACHEL PARK

Secretary-Treasurer L. K. THOMPSON

The Newberry Players was re-organized in 1938 and since then has been one of the most outstanding campus clubs. The club, under the leadership of Dr. Gordon Chappell and Dr. George Smith, presents several productions each year. The monthly meetings are highlighted with short skits, pieces of drama, and discussions of play production.

Anyone interested in dramatics is eligible for membership in the club. Both civilians and trainees are given opportunity to display their talents in the various fields of drama—staging, acting, and directing.

Seated: REISER, OELLERICH, PARK, STEWART, THOMPSON, SAXTON, SMITH, RICE, BENSON. Standing: KLECKLEY, ALBERTSON, MELCHERS, GATLIN.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

President	CURTIS GATLIN
Vice-President	DAVE CASE
Secretary-Treasurer	ADELINE RIVERS

The International Relations Club is a study and discussion group for the students interested in national and world events. The club is a member of a national organization endowed by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace.

The Carnegie Foundation furnishes much valuable material to the club—books, news summaries, and other pamphlets. This has been used a great deal in the bi-monthly programs which have included group discussions, reports and talks by various members, and even “round-ups” of the news by the faculty advisor, Dr. Chappell.

The IRC is spreading an understanding of international relations, thus creating a desire for and building the foundation for a better world.

EUTERPEAN MUSIC CLUB

President, BECKY NELL STEWART
Vice-President, KERMIT ALBERTSON
Secretary, RACHEL PARK
Treasurer, "Sis" YONCE

Although the Euterpean Music Club was not an active organization during the first term of the year, it developed into an interesting discussion group for music lovers in the second term. The themes of the programs were centered around modern composers, their lives and works. In connection with this, the members of the club were permitted to hear many of the records in the Carnegie library, which has been added to the music department.

KLOSTERMAN, ROBINSON, DAISLEY, TEED, KARDELIS, BROWN, MAYO.

THE DRILL SQUAD

The drill squad was organized at the beginning of the first semester with Ted Mappus as leader. The squad consisted of twelve men who were as follows: Chamberlin, B. H.; Gantt, J. A.; Hatch, J. B., Jr.; Head, W. L.; Keihner, J. K.; Lord, W. W.; McCullough, D. E.; MacIsaac, B. C.; Marlar, R. T.; Marx, J. H.; Matthews, J. L.; Thompson, L. K.

Their first performance was at the review during the midwinter and showed the results of much hard work.

THE MILITARY BAND

The military band furnished music for the reviews, parades, and drilling for the unit. Drum Major was Bob Stringer.

THE FLEET CLUB

President	BILL MOONEY
Vice-President	TOM DAISLEY
Secretary	J. P. BENSON
Treasurer	DON KUBLER

The Fleet Club is composed of trainees who have had naval service before entering the V-12 program. Many of its members boast campaign ribbons of foreign duty; others were previously based in the States.

Highlighting the club's activities for this year was the presentation of "Hit the Deck," a musical show which was written, produced, and cast by members of the club. Proceeds went to the Welfare and Recreation Fund.

FIRST PLATOON

The first platoon will always be remembered for its platoon spirit and its outstanding men. The beginning of the semester found the “old first” bolstered by an influx of “fleet men” who greatly contributed to its fame.

Justly proud is the first of L. A. Auton, who served as Regimental Commander for the first formal review of the year, B. W. Allen, Regimental C. P. O., and of Kermit Albertson, Regimental Yeoman.

Every morning, rain or shine, found Bobo and Brandenberg raising Old Glory. Platoon leaders were J. P. Benson, F. H. Binger, and T. Allen.

The “Fighting First” had an outstanding basketball team led by Atkins. Five of the seven scheduled games were won. To the first goes the distinction of ringing up the highest score in any of the intramural games—72 points.

The first also claimed the ship-shape appearance of the first deck of Men’s Dormitory as a result of its continued efforts.

Indeed the platoon has every right to claim the title, “first”, alphabetical organization being merely a coincidence.

SECOND PLATOON

The second platoon claims its glory in the field of sports, its team being undefeated in seven games of inter-platoon football. Bill Elliot was captain of the team. The second can also boast of quite an array of basketball stars, especially Daisley, DaRin, Elliot, and English.

Credit for the military attitude of the platoon goes to its leaders—Daisely, Denning, C. A. Davis, and Dodd. Members of the platoon who served as various regimental officers are P. M. Brown, Broughton, Bronson, Case, and Daisley.

On the strictly military side, Jimmy Hatch, Lloyd Head, and Adrian Gantt represented the platoon in the Crack Drill Squad.

Fourteen states are represented by members of the second platoon—Alabama, Florida, Illinois, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, Ohio, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin.

THIRD PLATOON

The third platoon participated in all campus activities during the year.

From the platoon came R. K. Greenlee, leader of the Swing Band. It also furnished two members, H. T. P. Hayes on the trombone and R. W. Harris on the trumpet. At no time did the third lack rhythm!

Athletic teams put on the field by this platoon have shown a fighting spirit and have many upsets to their credit.

Of the fifteen thousand dollars worth of war bonds sold by the unit in December, the members of the third platoon claim five thousand. Don Kubler was high salesman.

Platoon leaders included Halsey, Flin, and Farneti. Along the more literary lines, Kubler handled the job as co-editor of the annual.

Members of the third come from all parts of the country. The states represented are South Carolina, Alabama, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, North Carolina, New York, Michigan, Georgia, Texas, and Wisconsin. However, sectional differences forgotten, each member felt his responsibility and contributed to the welfare of the platoon.

FOURTH PLATOON

Showing the “Esprit de Corps” so necessary for a military organization, the fourth started the year with a fine group of men and maintained its high standards throughout the year.

Starting in the heart of the football season, the fourth made a good showing in the intramural touch football games. It also provided a star on the varsity team—“Red” Mayo.

With the start of the basketball season, the fourth suffered a reverse in luck, being edged out in most of the intramural games. However, two boys from the fourth, Livingston and Harmon, made the varsity team.

Ted Mappus became leader of the crack drill squad succeeding Bill Holly.

The boys of the fourth are known for their outstanding business ability. Evidence for this may be found in the fact that Maggiore is business manager of the Indian and Marx of the NEWBERRIAN.

FIFTH PLATOON

The "Singing Fifth" started the first semester right by winning the Red Rooster the first week and every other week consecutively until Christmas leave. J. W. (Bill) Mooney was platoon leader during that time.

Continuing the same winning spirit, the platoon solicited about two thousand dollars in War Bonds during the Sixth War Loan Drive.

The fifth is well represented in the field of sports. Football stars from the platoon included C. L. Norton and D. B. (Red) Miller, Jr. Again in basketball these two boys represented the platoon on the varsity. Norton was high scorer for the season; Miller was on the second team.

Trainees in the fifth platoon come from both sides of the Mason-Dixon Line; however, the North dominates the South in numbers.

The platoon has been under the leadership of J. W. Mooney, R. T. Pennington, and W. L. Meekins. Social Council representative was E. D. Passell.

SIXTH PLATOON

The sixth platoon, made up mostly of members of the old 8th, had the distinction of winning the Red Rooster more than any other platoon.

Men of this platoon participated in a variety of activities on the campus. Along the line of sports, Stelljes and "Shadrack" Watt are known for their prowess on the gridiron. Paul Smith made the varsity basketball team.

From this platoon came the campus Sinatra, George Tyson. George was always on hand to croon at the local dances. In the production "Hit The Deck", his rendition of "White Christmas" will long be remembered. In the line of entertainment, "Chick" Shiels also was outstanding while no one on the campus escaped his mimicry, his impersonation of notables was superb.

Of course all members of the platoon admit that they owe their achievements to the constant care and watchfulness of Tommy ("Mother") Thompson.

Along the more serious lines, "Chick" has been sports editor of the last two NEWBERRIANS and of the Indian. He has also served as representative on the campus for the Associated Press.

The Queen

Unprecedented in the annals of Newberry College was the gala week-end of Midwinter Festivities, January 27. The program for the week-end featured a military review, tea, and formal ball. Crowning the Regimental Queen, Miss Virginia Sligh, highlighted the Mid-winter Ball. The queen, who presided over the activities of the week-end, was chosen by a vote of the V-12 trainees.

Her court, also elected by the trainees, was comprised of six campus beauties. The two battalions and four companies were each represented by an attendant in the court.

We bless thy name, fresh crowned with fame
In every passing year.

Oh, Newberry, we pledge to thee
Our hearts and hands this day;
Our love, our faith, our loyalty,
Hail Scarlet and the Gray.

When years have passed and college days
Become but memories,
Though far or near we'll all hold dear
Thy name, thy victories.

Where'er we go, come weal or woe,
For thee we'll work and pray.
Thy loyal sons, we'll ever hail
The Scarlet and the Gray.

Thy loyal sons, we'll ever hail
The Scarlet and the Gray.

"Bo"
For 16 long months we have been together here at Newberry looking like I'm never going to get rid of you. Maybe I'll get use to it at Duke. It aint probable though.
Knowsly now - it has been fun & Good Luck at Duke rooming with you. Those trips home with you were very enjoyable.
You have such nice folks too. They made me feel at home although I was a stranger.
I wish the best of everything to you always.
"Getch
Elliott

Here's To you
Bo — I wish like hell I was going to Duke, but I guess I'm jinxed out of luck. Here's luck to you

Keep Em Guessing!
